Maxon Furniture Adds 'The Final Touch' to its Product Offerings

(June 11, 2007) Renton, WA – Maxon Furniture is pleased to announce the addition of several new commercial-quality workstation accessories that provide “the final touch” when creating new – or reconfiguring existing – office furniture.

“Adding these new accessories is part of our ongoing commitment to simplify and improve office furniture planning and selection – right down to the accessories,” explained Maxon Product Manager Kirk Roenfeldt. “Our accessories are built to enhance individual workstation efficiency by adding comfort and flexibility that allow individuals to place their equipment where it best meets their particular ergonomic needs.”

New Maxon accessories include:

- Adjustable flat-screen monitor arms (lift-and-pivot motion technology, VESA-compatible, for single or dual monitors, with grommet or clamp mount options)
- Keyboard platforms and mechanism combinations (twist-lock, lift-and-lock and sit-to-stand mechanisms)
- Vertical-mount computer holder
- Adjustable tray computer cart
- Desktop task light (3' reach with knob-free adjustment)
- Adjustable footrest (with back-and-forth swivel for ankle flexion and extension)

Existing Maxon accessories include: mounted task lights, panel-mounted accessory holders, rail-mounted panel accessory holders, rail-mounted shelves, diagonal or vertical paper trays, binder bins, center drawers, and dome electrical receptacles.
